August 5, 1915.

Respectfully returned to the Auditor, Oklahoma Board of Pension Commissioners,
Oklahoma City, Okla.

No record has been found in this office of an organization known as Company B, 20th Texas Cavalry, C.S.A., the muster rolls, however, show one J.W. Adkins (name also known as Adkin, Adkins) to have enlisted June 1, 1863, at Camp Groce, Texas, Company B, 20th Texas Cavalry, C.S.A., enlisted June 1, 1863, at Jack River County. On the muster roll for May and June, 1864, last on file, he was reported present, and a regimental return for August, 1864, shows him absent on furlough. No further record of his has been found, nor any record of any other man enlisted under or a member of this organization.

It is also shown by the records that one J.M.Adkins, private, Company [redacted], Reg't Texas Cavalry, [redacted], enlisted May 4, 1863, in Jackson County, and on the muster roll for January and February, 1865, last on file for this company, he was reported absent sick.

A return on file for Relief, Reg't Texas Cavalry, C.S.A., bears the name of one J.M.Adkins (the only one that is identified with the 20th Texas Cavalry regt), as that of a private of Company B, on which he was reported absent without leave since May 5, 1865. Nothing additional

Head Qrs 2nd Div 1st Army Corps
Fort Monroe Va
Feby 19th 1864.

Resp. returned for opinion and advice of the Judge Advocate and the Assistant.

The object of this Board created by act Oct 13th 1862 is to relieve the army of all disabled, disqualified and incompetent officers. It is not the only means of thus relieving it. The right to accept resignations for good and sufficient reasons has always been in the Regiment.

This act does not strip that right. The spirit of the act is to reach the fungus growth of the army that will not otherwise disappear and that does nothing & cannot be reached by Court Martial or military Courts Commissioners.

It is not designed to expose an officer who volunteers, and admits his incompetency, the terrible effects of which is established by his testimony in this case.

I enclose, as the state this case to be at issue exists, an opinion on the above

Lt Col. Otis & Field, Comdy 29th Texas Cav.

I herewith tender my unconditional and immediate resignation as an Officer of the Confederate States Army, for the reason that I do not deem myself fully competent to discharge the duties of the Office I now hold, therefore would prefer serving my Country in the capacity of a Private Soldier.

In submitting my resignation I would respectfully ask to be relieved from duty until such time as the action, by proper, authority, can be heard from. During which time I may have an opportunity of attending to the want and welfare of My family, who I left in the north west portion of Denton County Texas. a distance of nearly two hundred miles, they are at this time in a very precarious and helpless condition. exposed to impending danger. of their Protectors their distruction at any hour.

They inform me that the Settlement about them are going way on account of the Indians depredations, which are being committed frequently, in their vicinity, in consequence thereof they cannot stay when they are, even want to be taken out of the way, at least of the Indians depredations. they have no means of transportation but are dependent upon me, or the charity of the people, for means and way of needs, I propose moving them to the Interior, where they may be secure from Savage incursions.

There is not a full corps of Commissioned officers in the Company to which I belong, except me, who is about me a short leave. Please forward this to the proper Authorities for Consideration.

[illegible] McMORSE, Editor & Proprietor

Vol. 26. . . . . No. 25.

The Battle of Bird Creek.

We publish this week the official report of [illegible] Cooper, who commanded the only Brigade representing the Confederacy in this action. This brigade was composed of the 1st Ch Cherokee regiments,commanded by Colo. [illegible] and Adair; Bass' regiment; DeMorse's regiment; Martin's regiment;the 1st and 2nd Creek regiments; commanded by the McIntosh's Gillett's Squadron;and Scaland's Squadron since merged into Wells' Battalion; Lee's Artillery company; and 1st Choctaw & Chickasaw regiment, commanded by Col Walker.—These commands were so posted with reference to anticipated points of attack by the enemy, that Martin's regiment and the two Creek regiments were never under fire. Gen. Cooper issued an order for them to come to the support of DeMorse's regiment,which though call ed a part of the centre, really occupied the extreme left of the line actually engaged; but the order got to them too late to be effectual; and the enemy driving back the Indians on the right of our line, concentrated their whole force upon Lee's artillery, Bass' and DeMorse's regiments,pouring down upon them perhaps eight times their numbers a murderous fire, which would have nearly annihilated them, had the men not been lying concealed upon the ground until the enemy were in close proximity;when they rose and fire, delivered their fire, after which were instructed at once, and other rendered work fresh again. Many of them, however were disabled in the act of reloading; the enemy being close upon them. and there being no reserve upon the rear of DeMorse's men, and the absence of nine others, so that the enemy had the advantage of the cover of Brushfree bushes [illegible] our line,and our men then had no cover. Many of our men including Capt Brown of company [illegible] DeMorse's regiment, were disabled [illegible] in the recumbent position, before being allowed to do any thing in defence; the object being to reserve all firing, until the enemy were close enough to permit every aim to be effective. The action resulted that the enemy brought his whole force to bear upon a portion of the brigade, probably not exceeding 1000, perhaps a still smaller number; for in the entire field action only 262 men, and of [illegible] fourth were in the rear as horse holders and part of these companies detached as skirmishers and posted in a branch at a right angle to the line of battle, did not come fairly [illegible] 1st Brigade I. T.

[illegible] Bear Creek Canadian.
August 12th 1863.

My official report of the affair [illegible] the 17th ult. has been delayed in consequence of the movements of the [illegible] command, and the difficulty [illegible] reports from subordinate [illegible] and wounded. Referring [illegible] I now have the following.

[illegible] reports were sent to me [illegible] in charge of Piquets on Arkansas River, that it had become fordable [illegible] Creek[illegible]—that federal officers [illegible] the fords,that the two [illegible] Kennedy employers in [illegible] Camp Arbuckle and Cobb [illegible] themselves upon you and thereby [illegible] to enlist in the Brigade, [illegible] that they had been at the [illegible] that Ford &c. &c. &c. [illegible] was a probability that the [illegible] would come upon me before Gen. [illegible] movements were known [illegible] all events that a heavy scout [illegible] to support the Piquets [illegible] I directed their concentration [illegible] Creek, with instructions to [illegible] different Fords.

[illegible] this information reached [illegible] were crossing in force [illegible] Col. Tandy Walker [illegible] Regiment,and Capt Gil [illegible] C. S. A. with their com[illegible] Lt. Heinton A. D C [illegible] ordered out in the direction of [illegible] Mission" where the [illegible] Agency & to Gibson intersect, [illegible] to send out small portion of observation on both roads & to withdraw the Piquets from Coody's Creek. Up to this time I had been unable to determine whether the force which crossed at the Creek Agency was merely a heavy scout, or the advance of the main body of the enemy. About two or three hundred had been reported moving from the Creek Agency down the River to Nevins and Rabbit Ford near Frozen Rock, who were supposed no doubt, still to be there. About daylight on the morning of the 17th the advance of the enemy came in sight of the position occupied by the Choctaws and Texans, commenced a brisk fire upon them, which was returned and followed by a charge,which drove the enemy back upon the main column.—Lt. Heinton reported the morning cloudy and damp, many of the guns failing to fire, in consequence of the very inferior quality of the powder—the cartridges becoming worthless even upon exposure to damp atmosphere. Soon after the Federals had been driven back, it commenced raining heavily. which rendered our arms wholly useless.

These troops then fell back slowly & in good order to camp, for the purpose of obtaining a fresh supply of ammunition and preparing for the impending fight; a few remained with Lt. Heinton at Prairie Mountain about three miles north of camp on the Gibson road and were so disposed as to create the impression on the enemy that a large force was there awaiting them. Accordingly their advance halted until the main body came up and formed in Line of Battle, thus affording me aid opportunity to form an estimate of their strength. He reported their force to be probably 4000, which I found nearly correct, though some 500 under the mark.

After ascertaining that the enemy were advancing in force, orders were issued to the officers commanding Corps to prepare for immediate action and take their positions. all which had become anticipated an attack previously denoted by General Order No. 25 to copy of which marked A herewith,reference is made.

Capt. Lee's Light Battery had been moved up on the Gibson road the evening previous intending it to go with the scout under Col. Walker, but owing to some misunderstanding or neglect in delivering the order, the scout left without it. Col Bass with his regiment was ordered forward to support Lee's Battery. Scaland's squadron and Gillett's squadron were directed to support the Creeks,at the upper crossing of Elk Creek and Col. Walker to hold his regiment in reserve at their camp near Honey Springs, sending Piquets out on the road across the mountain in the direction of Prairie Springs.

Having made the arrangements I rode forward to the position north of Elk Creek where Capt. Lee's Light Howitzer battery had been posted and found it supported by Col. Bass' Regiment,(20th Texas dismounted Cav.) by a portion of the 2d Cherokee Regt. and a body of Skirmishers on the right under Command of Capt. Hugh Tinnin of the 1st Cherokee Regt. the remainder of the Cherokee Regiments being near the Creek. A movement of the enemy on my right was discovered and Capt. Tinnin reported that the skirmishers would soon be engaged, One half of Col. Bass Regt. under captain Johnson was then ordered to the right, to support Capt. Tinnin, and I rode over to their position and found movements of officers that there was a body of Troops on my extreme right. A part of the 2d Cherokee regiment just returned from a scout to Prairie Springs, who were getting breakfast at camp, were then ordered up, and conducted by myself to the right, and a messenger sent for half of the Choctaw regiment, which soon arrived, and were placed also on the right along the edge of the prairie. Upon reconnoitering the enemy (from the high prairie, where I had a full view of them)then advancing upon the Gibson road, I found their force larger than reported by Lieutenants Heinton, and larger than I supposed they would bring from Gibson, and seeing a heavy force wheeling off to their right, and taking the road up the creek to the second crossing above the bridge—our weakest point, and from which the road continues up to the third crossing where the Creeks were posted. I returned to the main road—sent orders to the Creeks to move down and support Colonels DeMorse and Martin, who were directed to support Colonel Bass, and if possible flank the enemy on our left. I then rode to where I expected to find the Choctaws in order to bring them to the support of Colonel Bass' command and the battery which was engaged with that of the enemy. Colonel Walker mistaking the order had moved off on the mountain several miles with his whole force instead of sending a piquet. Messengers were sent after him, and he returned promptly, but too late for the defence of the bridge. Riding back near the creek, I discovered our men in small parties giving way—these increased until the retreat became general. Colonel Bass' regiment, and Captain Lee's Battery after a most gallant defence of their position were compelled to fall back. Colonel DeMorse's regiment and Colonel Martin's on the left, also retiring—except a few who were cut off from the main body. We have to mourn the loss of many brave officers and men who fell here, sacrificing their lives in opposition to an overwhelming force; to save our little [illegible]tery—all

...ment. Col. Walker and his Cherokees behaved bravely as they always do. Capt Hanks of Bass' regiment was also distinguished for his gallantry, being dangerously wounded while carrying orders which I had sent to Col. Bass, to draw the right wing to his support, and the lamented Capt Malloy of the same Regt. fell mortally wounded soon after having delivered my order to his Col to move DeMorse's and Mayo's regiments, up on the right flank of the enemy—who were advancing upon the Battery at the centre.

Captain Johnson who commanded a detachment from Col Bass' Regt, came under my immediate notice. His conduct was at the most trying time cool and collected; that of a brave man and good officer. The nature of the ground precluded the possibility of personally observing all the movements of our troops and the conduct of the men and officers. Among those who are mentioned with praise by their immediate commanding officers, are Captains Hugh Wynne, J L. Butler and Jas. Stewart 1st Cherokee Regt. Adjt L G DeMorse 29th Tex. Cavalry. 1st Henry Forrester and Sergt. S Riley Baker, Lee's Light Battery. Lt A G Ballinger 2d Cherokee regiment, killed. — Acting Sergt Maj J H Herrera of Bass' regiment. Sergt Henry Campbell, Flag bearer of the same regiment, was particularly distinguished for his gallant conduct during the action. Mr P A Bisetzenes, after being severely wounded, succeeded in repulsing three of the enemy who attacked him, killing one of them and taking his gun which he brought off with him together with his own, closely pursued by the enemy, after the greater portion of our troops had left the Field.

Of my personal staff Lt T B Heiston A D C, & A A A Gen'l all speak in the highest terms. He was on this as on all former occasions whenever duty called, conspicuous for his gallant conduct.

My son Douglas H Cooper, Jr, A A D C is mentioned favorably by Col Bass in his report, for his good conduct while conveying my orders amidst the thickest of the fray. I am also indebted to Samuel A Rounsaville for valuable assistance in carrying orders.

Referring to accompanying reports for further details and to list of killed and wounded.

I am General
Respectfully,
DOUGLAS H COOPER.

SIR:—

Having read your official report of the battle of 19th inst and deeming that more explicit acknowledgment is due for valuable services rendered by a tried and always reliable officer. I beg leave to call your attention to facts, a full knowledge of which is alone necessary.—I am entitled to your official recognition of the services referred to. You mention that Lieut Col. C. W. Welch commanding the 29th Texas Cav. after having withdrawn from the field in consequence of a wound, was cut off, with a portion of the command. Inferentially it would appear that he had been in a hazardous position, but it should be explicitly known, that with the exception of the Regiment he received his wound from the line of battle, with all other troops then present, the right of my regiment excepted, that he then dismounted his command, on the ... of the enemy, which ... and been undefended ... space of distance should ... passing his men there, wait ... discovering that his ... supported on the ... left, and the enemy who had ... right, were already in rear as ... he moved by the left flank, ... skirting the creek, and too ... to prevent the escape of the command, ... to the west of our regimental ... and charge to North Fork Town ... your report. Vol. 20 No 44.

Head Quarters, Maxey's Cav. Div,
Camp on Middle Camden Road,
Ark. April 23d 1864.

Colonel:—

I respectfully submit the following report of the operations of the troops I had the honor to command, in the battle of Poison Springs, on the 18th inst.

During the morning of that day, I was officially advised that a heavy train of forage [illegible] was out on the old military road between Camden, and Washington, escorted by a considerable force of Artillery, Infantry, and cavalry. I was directed by the [illegible] commanding to proceed with [illegible] without delay, from my bivouac [illegible] to intercept them on the Camden, [illegible] road, about ten miles from [illegible] which point I would find other [illegible] and on Senior Officer take command on [illegible]. I put my division in motion, and [illegible] of the point designated about 9 o'clock [illegible] and found Brig. Gen. Marmaduke with his cavalry command there; and Brig. Gen. Cabell with him, just getting in. Gen. Marmaduke at once tendered the command to me. From him I learned the dispositions of the enemy, his probable strength, and the estimated time of the train.

The disposition of our forces was soon made. Marmaduke's Division on the right; Cabell's [illegible] centre, and Maxey's Division, brought [illegible] from the Indian Territory, composed of [illegible] Texas Brigade, under Col. Charles DeMorse; [illegible] Brigade of Choctaw Indians, [illegible] Col. Tandy Walker, Chickasaws [illegible] commanded by Capt. W. R. Khrumbear; [illegible] to Gano's brigade on the left. [illegible]'s battery, attached to Cabell's command, was placed on Cabell's line, some distance to the left of the road—Khrumbear's battery in the centre of Maxey's Division.

The enemy occupied a position on [illegible] ground, to our front, with a portion of [illegible] down the slope toward the open [illegible]. The train was closed [illegible] the centre of the enemy's line.

[illegible] forward, the plan was to [illegible] Maxey's Division forward; the right of it [illegible] to the left of the old field, [illegible] to be concealed, the left to [illegible] forward, so as to bring that Division [illegible] the enemy, and so bring on the fight [illegible] Division, and to throw Cabell's Division forward through the field into the fight [illegible] Maxey's Division became engaged, and to move the forces on the right well [illegible] covering the road.

[illegible] with the general plan Marmaduke [illegible] at once put in motion, and [illegible] as possible, considering the [illegible] encountered by broken ground, and [illegible] Hughey's battery was [illegible] the attention from this [illegible] Division was delayed about [illegible] engagement longer than I [illegible] to the nature of the ground. [illegible] had been going on for some [illegible] heavy firing, and hearing [illegible] Maxey's Division, [illegible] of Marmaduke, of Marmaduke [illegible] satisfied. The Brigade was gal[illegible] will do its work. I so[illegible] of Gano's Brigade, just at[illegible] this part of the line [illegible], a part of the enemy [illegible] back.

[illegible] on all along the line [illegible]'s, to the left of the [illegible] left of the [illegible] heard, and the [illegible] the line [illegible] field into the fight.

[illegible] general all along the line, [illegible] and the enemy [illegible] fight [illegible] his forces being [illegible] his battery of four [illegible] guns.

[illegible] with victory perched [illegible] more than two miles, when they [illegible] to complete the task [illegible]

[illegible] obstacle; double rapidity [illegible] action on this road [illegible] lost at it arrived in [illegible] battery, about mid-

[illegible] fighting was fought [illegible]. Our losses were [illegible] enemy. Of the [illegible] Texas. The force en[illegible] to be greatly su[illegible] posted to 20 in number, and could as any time after they were notified by the artillery, have moved on our rear. To secure the train I moved Gabell in the road toward Camden, left Marmaduke in rear—moved Maxey's division in front of the train, and requested Pagan, who was on the middle Camden road, to hold that position, and reinforced him with Gano's brigade of Maxey's division. This made the road over which the captured property passed, as safe as it could be with the force in hand.—About thirty wagons without teams, and some broken, were burned on the field. About one hundred, and seventy with teams, and every thing complete were saved. The artillery also.

The enemy's force was about twenty five hundred. At no time did we have that many engaged. His loss is killed, and wounded, will reach six hundred, and fifty. The proportion of killed was variously estimated, at from three to five hundred. I know they were three. In making a report, where my knowledge of the troops with whom I have been associated but a very short time (except my own division) is necessarily imperfect, I fear to do injustice unintentionally; the more so that in this report, I have not the benefit of General Marmaduke's report of his division.

I can only say so far as my observation extended every officer, and man did his duty.—The plan of battle was in every particular carried out. Hughey's Battery by its timely and splendid work drew attention from Maxey's division; and in turn, that and Green's brigade with the unerring fire of Khrumbear's battery drew attention from Cabell's command, until it had partially succeeded in crossing the open field. Finally the whole line moved forward like a sheet of living fire, carrying death, and destruction before it.

To the indomitable energy of Capt Khrumbear in carrying his battery over ground almost impassible, and the subsequent working of his battery, much of the success of Maxey's division is due.

I beg leave to call special attention to the Choctaw brigade. These people came of their own volition. Not law or treaty compelled them to do so—they were placed on the extreme left of the attacking division. Nobly gallantly, and gloriously, they did their duty. They fought the very army (Thayer's from Smith) that had destroyed their once happy homes, insulted their women, and driven them with their children, destitute upon the world—and many an avenging blow has struck—many yet will be.

The troops from Arkansas, Missouri, and Texas, vied with each other in honorable emulation.

To Major Ware's commanding Mo. Battalion, and to his battalion, I am much indebted for valuable assistance in saving the train, and to others who lent a cheerful helping hand, whose names I do not know.

The various members of my own staff, were of great service. Col. R. R. Perlock, Capt. C. W. Ballance, Lt. Jas. Patterson, and A. E. Ellison, acting A. D. C. of my staff, were late with my division, to aid its movements in the execution of the plan of battle, and rendered valuable, and important service to the Choctaw brigade, with which they acted, in executing the difficult task of moving it line into action over rough ground, and through dense undergrowth, and bringing it out at the right time, and in the right place, by partial change of front. Capt. Ochiltree, my Asst. Adjt. General, & Capt. W. H. Lewis chief Ord. Officer, were of great service with me, gallantly conveying orders all over the field; my Aid de-camp, Lieut. R. C. Andrews, had been sent by me to the rear, to communicate with Gen. Fagan, and lost part of the fight. Lt. Mebane had also been detached on important duties. Being short of staff officers a portion of the time Lt. W. Harris of my escort assisted.—He, and Lt. Barfield, and the escort, were of great service, carrying orders wherever needed.

For the return of officers, and men of particular commands, I call attention to reports filed.

In closing this rough, and hasty drawn report, written with all the inconveniences of picket duty around, I take great pleasure in acknowledging myself very greatly the debtor of Brig. Marmaduke, I found him on the field with an intelligent understanding of the enemy's strength and position.

In the formation of the line of battle, in its [illegible] and conduct, I consulted with him freely, and with great advantage.

A [illegible] moved from the right down [illegible] of the entire line, cheering, and encouraging by his presence, and bright example. Gen. Cabell managed his command with great skill, carrying it most successfully through a very [illegible] position into the fight.

The Brigade commanders of Maxey's Division, Col. Charles DeMorse 29th Tex. cavalry, and Col. Tandy Walker, 1st Choctaw & Chickasaw Regt. for their skill, gallantry, and darring in conducting their commands into the fight successfully, through such difficulties, and those who assisted, deserve great credit. Of the Choctaw brigade, I have already spoken. The Texas brigade did its whole duty, gloriously fighting, as Texans know how to fight.

The substantial fruits of the victory, are a [illegible] Battery of Artillery, and about one hundred and seventy wagons, and teams recovered, about thirty wagons destroyed—between six and seven hundred killed, and wounded. Over one hundred prisoners, and the force that fought us demoralized—but above all the splendid effect on our men. In making this report I omitted to say in the proper place, that the troops were fought dismounted, only a sufficiency being left mounted to cover the flank, and act as a guard on the Camden road in rear.—I respectfully refer to accompanying reports filed. It should be borne in mind that all these nominal Divisions were small; were dismounted for action, and one fourth consumed in holding horses—I believe not more than eighteen hundred were engaged at any time.

I have the honor to be

Houston May 8.—Gen. Griffin attacked the enemy at Calcasieu yesterday morning, and captured two gunboats, the Granite, and the Wave, with sixteen guns, and about eighty prisoners.

Shreveport May 8.—It is reported on apparently good authority, that Banks' Adjutant General, with a party of soldiers was captured day before yesterday.

He was attempting to make his escape.

The enemy have blown up three of their largest gunboats, to prevent their falling into our hands.

Three Irish regiments, at Vicksburg, refused to re-enlist, and shouted for Jeff Davis.

Major's captured, on the 5th, a transport having on board the 12th Ohio regiment numbering 250 men, and all its field [illegible] Liles's ferry ten miles above fort DeRussey.

We take the following from the Caddo Gazette:

Steele lost in killed, 1200. We have 600 wounded in our hands, and captured 1800 prisoners, and all of his artillery, with 4000 mules and 800 wagons.

Steele received heavy reinforcements, and made his escape well, pleased.

Camden, Ark. May 4, 1864.

Soldiers of the Trans-Miss Department.—The campaign inaugurated at Mansfield on the day of national fast, and supplication, has under providence, been crowned with most glorious and brilliant success. You have defeated a foe three times your own number. The fields of Mansfield, Pleasant Hill, Clourtierville Poison Springs, Mark's Mills, and Jenkin's ferry, attest your devotion. 3000 killed, and wounded, 6000 prisoners, 34 pieces of artillery, 1200 wagons, one gunboat and three transports are already the fruits of your victories. The path of glory is still open to the permanent security of your homes, therefore, call your comrades together, and shoulder to shoulder we will yet free the soil of our beloved country from the invaders foot steps.

Soldiers of Arkansas, Missouri, Texas, and Louisiana, you have the thanks of a greatful people. Your living will be respected—your dead honored and revered.

RECORD DIVISION

found a terrific fire upon it with shell

I at once upon receiving an order from you, through Capt Johnson found me here to congratulate you upon the gallant bearing of your men) to make a demonstration on Martins Regiment to prevent the enemy from turning my left flank. I therefore sent Capt F. M. Hanks with orders to tell Martin to move his Regt to the left and front several hundred yards which he did.

I afterwards on finding that the same body of cavalry was still making demonstrations on my left, caused him (Col Martin) to move his men down to Little Flat Creek some half a mile distant from his last position and there form his Regiment at a road which lead to our rear to hold the enemy in check, and prevent them if possible from passing thereto. He held his position under the fire of the enemy's battery without being able to return it, they being beyond the range of the double barrelled shot guns, with which his men were mostly armed, he only fell back when the remainder of the troops were driven from the field.

By an order from you I caused Capt Johnson, who was the Senior Captain of my Regiment and then in command, (Lt Col Taliaferro being absent on the staff of Gen Stale temporarily) to take the right half of it and move to the right of battery three hundred & fifty (350) or four hundred (400) yards, about this time I saw a body of Infantry advancing in the direction of the right wing of our Army at which time a heavy fire of musketry ensued and shortly afterwards a battery opened upon me from that direction which I learned afterwards was the third battery, that was placed upon the extreme right, after the right wing had been driven back.

Both being aware of the right wing having been flanked, the Capt. Blanks, who was sent with orders to the right found the enemy in possition having advanced to within forty or fifty (50) yards of their ranks, they fired a volley upon him wounding him severely consequently he did not receive the intelligence of any right having fallen back) & still maintained my position under a terrific and galling fire from three of the enemy's batteries, which were placed in position on the right, left and centre of their liner bringing me under a cross as well as a direct fire.

My Command being opposite their centre, therefore the concentrated fire of [illegible] guns many of which were twelve (12) pounders was poured into my ranks and upon my battery. About this time the enemy's battery in front ceased about firing and their infantry prepared to charge, knowing the disabled condition of the battery belonging to my command I concurred in opinion with Capt. Lee that it was necessary in order to save it to move it to the rear about half a mile horse shot, was a little startled but did not take flight that day. His battle also fell mortally wounded, he was a brave possessed of all the qualities necessary to make a good citizen and a faithful soldier.

Capt Hamtramck Quartermaster of Jones Regiment who acted as Volunteer Aid to me, rendered me essential service by assisting me and carrying my orders to the different points of my command amidst a storm of bullets continually passing from the enemy's center, in the performance of this duty, he was severely wounded and carried off the field; the courage gallantry and energy manifested by him, up to the time he was wounded gives him a claim to my notice, I therefore recommend him to your notice, feeling that he is entitled to consideration and reward.

John H. Rinson acting Sergt Major and Henry Campbell Sergeant and flag bearer for their [illegible] courage, the former continuing on hand and fighting for some time after the wounding of the Regiment to which he was attached had left the field, the latter being wounded when in the thickest of the battle still continued to bear his flag, who at one time assailed by several of the Federals, they ordered him to halt, he turned and charged them with the color staff, they gave way and he succeeded in making his escape, still bearing the flag (he received) merits the highest commendation and entitles him to consideration and reward.

[illegible] from my horse, I passed into [illegible] field (leaving one, along the rear line [illegible] which my brigade was stationed, [illegible] over to the skirmishers inside the line [illegible] the enemy; found a deep hollow [illegible] down which the skirmishers were fir[illegible] myself that the field beyond this [illegible] by the enemy.

[illegible] that although I had a general [illegible] where the main body of the enemy [illegible] not possible to see any of them: [illegible] the commanders to take trees, and advance through the hollow. I went back to the rear [illegible] the battery into position on the crest [illegible] which was a hill top of regular elevation [illegible] and crossing the entire line for[illegible] the open fields, passed the hollow [illegible] the enemy opposite, found itself in [illegible] enemy, and on his right flank, and [illegible] a hundred yards, which [illegible] advanced). Prior to this, Cabell's [illegible] to flank the enemy, had been [illegible] him, responded to by his four [illegible] had opened the action at close [illegible] of them arriving up to a fence with[illegible] yards, the battle of artillery became in[illegible] heavy. The enemy returned a fire, [illegible] the same advantages of our position [illegible] been very destructive. My field, and [illegible] were momentarily all dismounted. A [illegible] in rear of the line could not have escaped [illegible] so five minutes. My men went in [illegible] shouting, and fighting unflinchingly [illegible] it became evident that we were [illegible] outflanked, and that the fire upon us [illegible] them we could bear, and under it a [illegible] of my centre, and left gave way, and fell [illegible] the hollow, and some few into the field [illegible] rear, over which we had passed into the en[illegible]

[illegible] on. I was in person on the left, and with the assistance of Capt. Bell, A. A. G., halted these, and rallied them; and just then, Capt. Krumbhaar, whose order from me, had been, to fire, whenever he could see anything to fire at, concluding that it was a good time for his interposition, opened with his howitzers, and calculating correctly the range, dropped his shells most effectively in the midst of the enemy, and near their artillery. The effect was immediately discernible. Our men, above on the right, gave a loud shout. I advanced the men from the hollow, who went up with a will—Gano's brigade of Marmaduke's command, coming in upon my right, lent co-operation at the very moment when most needed—and from that forward our movement was onward; and the enemy broke in complete rout.

The enemy's artillery falling back and supported by successive stands of their infantry, upon each succeeding ridge, was, after moving to the road, captured by a mixed body of advancing troops from my command, and from our front.

The enemy's train of 208 wagons, laden with corn, bacon, stolen bedquilts, women's and childrens clothing, hogs, geese, and all the et ceteras of unscrupulous plunder, was found standing in the road [illegible] having only a few defenders remaining, when our men got to it. In one of these wagons was a stand of colors, afterwards removed by somebody. The few defenders were soon killed or scattered.

From this forward, my men, who were the first up, pursued a half mile further the road, and were then ordered to form a new line. The Choctaws, who from their position, flanking nearly to the enemy's rear, were better enabled to pursue them advantageously, continued keenly on their track, and did splendid service, which it is not my province to detail. My men were greatly fatigued before getting to the scene of action, and after the partial pursuit, so entirely exhausted as to have inabled them from any active movement.

The enemy we fought were Gen. Thayer's Division from Ft. Smith, and Roseville; including parts of thirteen regiments, comprising five or six hundred negroes, supposed to be, in all, 2,500 men. Probably 300 of these negroes, and 75 white federals, were killed. But few prisoners brought in my command, because their work was in the hot fire of the contest, and not in pursuit.

I carried into action, Krumbhaar's battery, No. of men 30. 29th Texas cavalry, under command of Maj. Carroll, No. of men 211. 30th Texas cavalry, under command of Lt. Col. M. W. Battle, No of men 195. 31st Texas cavalry under command of Major M. Looscan. No. of men 175.—Capt. Welch's unattached Co. under Lt. Gano, No. of men 44. Total number of men 665.

Part of the 29th was on detached service, and a portion of each of the commands still in the Indian Territory. One fourth of these were holding horses, and 27 acting as infantry corps.

Without an exception that I know of, every officer in my brigade acted gallantly, and nearly every man. I exhorted them to coolness, and deliberate aim, before advancing, and the testimony of their immediate commanders is, that they had never seen such shooting in action before; the men firing as though hunting squirrels. Maj. Carroll, as usual, exerted himself to do the full duties of a commander. Lt. Col. Battle was forward in the advance; Maj. Looscan was prompt, active, and gallant; Capt. Krumbhaar entirely cool, quick, and importantly useful. Capt. Welch's unattached company, their Captain being absent, was temporarily under Col. Battle's control, and operating with his regiment.

To Capt. M. L. Bell, and Lt. S. S. Anderson of my staff, I am indebted for valuable service promptly rendered.

The killed, and wounded of the brigade, as shown by recapitulation rendered, were as follows, viz:

Killed 4, wounded 23, missing 3, total 35.

Of these the 29th T. C. had one killed, and five wounded. 30th Texas had killed one; wounded 17. 31st Texas had one killed; wounded four; Capt. Welch's company wounded 6.

Maj. Davenport of the 30th, and Lt. Gano, and Huffman, of Capt. Welch's unattached Company were slightly wounded, and are included in the above list.

Very Respectfully,
CHARLES DeMORSE.
Col. Com'd. Texas Brigade,

~~Respecting~~ Rebel Desertion

~~and Theirs~~

Taken by Albert G. Clarke

Statement of Joseph Edwards a rebel deserter

Prisoner at St. Louis, made the 9th day of May 1865

My age is 22 years.
I live in Ellis County, Texas
I was born in Johnson County, N.C.
I surrendered myself in St. Louis City, County, Mo. on or about the 8th day of May 1865.
The cause of my surrender — is. I have been in the rebel army deserted Mch. 29th 1865 on Red River Texas near Lamesport Choc. Nation

I was in arms against the United States, and was a (rank) private in Capt. Wilson's Company "B" 39th Texas Cavalry Gobs
I was sworn into the Rebel service about the middle day of May 1863, by a recruiting Officer in Ellis County, Texas for three years or during the war. I was never in the service before

When captured, I was first taken to and remained there and was removed there by and was sent to Prison about the day of 186

I do not desire to take the oath of allegiance to the United States, about the but desire to do so. and for that purpose report this Statement submitted by the prisoner,

the first day named, in my presence

Albert G. Evans

Jas. E. Edwards

THE PRISONER MAKES ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS AS FOLLOWS, IN ANSWER TO QUESTIONS.

1. How many times have you been in arms during the rebellion?

Once

2. What commanders have you served under?

Gen. Gano

3. What battles or skirmishes have you been in?

None

4. Did you have arms, or were you out on picket, or what part did you take in the action?

Took arms and did duty as a Soldier

5. Have you ever furnished arms, or amunition, horse, provisions, or any kind of supplies, to any rebels? State when, where, and how often.

Furnished my own horse

6. Was there any rebel camp near you, that you did not give notice of to the U. S. Troops?

7. Have you ever been with any one taking or pressing horses, arms or other property?

No,

8. Are you enrolled in the E. M. M.—loyal or disloyal?

No,

9. Are you a Southern sympathizer?

No.

10. Do you sincerely desire to have the Southern people put down in this war, and the authority of the U. S. Government over them restored?

I do

11. How many slaves have you? No.

12. Have you a wife—how many children? No. none

13. What is your occupation? Farming

14. What relatives have you in the rebellion? None that I know of.

15 Have you ever been in any Rebel camp? If so, whose—when—where—and how long? What did you do? Did you leave it, or were you captured in it?

Texas and other rebel Camps. I did not enter the rebel army until after the passage of the rebel conscript law. when I was obliged to go in. The reason why I did not desert before was that my parents lived in Texas. and what little I had was all there. and I thought every two or three months the Texas would soon be [illegible] do. I finally concluded to risk the consequences and leave the rebel army at all hazards. I deserted. crossed the Arkansas between Charleston & Fort Smith. crossed Boston Mts. left Fayetteville to the left. and came on to Jefferson City which was the first Town we struck. We got on the cars and came to St. Louis. The reason why we did not surrender before was. that we were afraid of being imprisoned. I want to take the oath and go to work at anything to make some money.

REBEL ARCHIVES
WAR DEPARTMENT

North Fork General Hospital.
Creek Nation, Department of the Indian Territory. August 15th, 1863.

Sir;

I would respectfully recommend, for the position of Hospital Steward, Dr. A. M. Elmore, (a private in Company K., 29th Regiment of Texas Cavalry,) in the Provisional Army of the Confederate States. I beg leave to state that I do not recommend him from sympathy, or from any considerations outside of suitable qualifications, such as are required in the Army Regulations — honest integrity, industry, with a practical knowledge of pharmacy. —

Being in temporary charge of the Genl. Hospital at a time when it was crowded with sick and wounded, I have had ample opportunities of becoming acquainted with Dr. Elmore's capabilities as a compounder and dispenser of medicines, and have found him to be most thoroughly competent and reliable, and therefore most cordially present him to your favorable notice.

Most respectfully, your obedient and humble servant.

J. P. Evans, Surgeon P.A.C.S. and Brigade Surgeon 1st Brigade, Dep't
of the Indian Territory, in Charge of Genl. Hospital.

Honorable John Sedan
Secretary of War.

August 15th 1869

I take great Pleasure in Recommending to your favorable notice for the position of Hospital Steward.

He has manifested a desire to qualify himself for the duty and his faithful attention to the duties of his trust warrants me in believing him to be Very Respectfully
